Sir

112

The Antislavery Sewing Circle of Cincinnati have appropriated $200. to either the American or Massachusetts Antislavery Society, for the purpose of securing the services of a lecturer in Ohio some part of the time this winter. Our reason for making the appropriation in this form was, that we would greatly prefer Lillie Holley as a lecturer, and we did not know by which society she was employed.

We understood here that Francis Jackson was the proper person to correspond with on this subject, and I accordingly wrote him a fortnight ago but have had no reply, from which I infer that he has not received my letter, or that he does not attend to that department. We have the money now on deposit, and from the unsettled state of financial matters feel that we run some risk of losing what we consider a sacred trust for the slave. In this state of affairs I concluded to write to you (although I know your time must be fully occupied) trusting to your known, and tried interest in the cause to give me the requisite information both as to how to procure the lecturer, and how to forward the money.

Yours for the slave

Mary DeBrow
